

THE JULIA SET

The band was formed in 2007, the brainchild of a guitarist and a bass player who wanted to play "proper" rock and damn the consequences, and thus The Julia Set was born. That lasted all of five minutes, as the guitarist promptly landed a decent job and vanished into the setting sun.

The bassist, however, carried on with the concept and managed to pull together the guitar influenced rock band that we've got today, based in and around the West London area. Gigs have included such prestigious venues as The 12 Bar Club, The Alleycat, Fiddlers Elbow and The Water Rats, amongst many others.

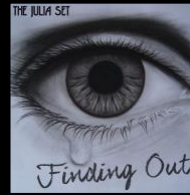

We've had a long stint playing covers but always with the goal of writing our own material and, in 2013, we gathered a few songs together and released an EP, titled "Skyline" (now free on BandCamp and SoundCloud). Recent releases have been singles such as "Wild Wood" and "Love & Hate (A Story Of)", "Is This Your First Time?", "Finding Out" and the latest "Running Through My Head".

We would just describe ourselves, if anything, as an Indie Rock band seasoned with a hint of retro. We love the big overlaid guitar sound.

We hope that you enjoy listening to our music as much as we enjoy playing it.

THE JULIA SET

It Matters Radio

Julia Set definition: a set of number sequences that even a small variation, a slight perturbation, will change entirely! It portrays this wonderful band in a nutshell.

Rock Bandom

The Julia Set – Great band indeed, they have a very nice Rock Blues feel, reminds us of Billy Joel or Deacon Blue with a touch of Bread thrown in. Lyrically great with fantastic vocals to match and really good tunes to complete the package.

Hayes FM

The title track (on the EP Skyline) has a 'British Eagles' stamp, with hints of Weller at his best once the vocals arrive, so London Soul seems to be the lifeblood that fills the very heart of The Julia Set.
